Description :

PDF-32cf6 | Co-published with the Philadelphia Museum of Art When the Philadelphia lawyer John G. Johnson began to collect art in the late nineteenth century, he defied contemporary taste by acquiring Italian paintings from the early Renaissance. He eventually donated his distinguished collection to the City of Philadelphia, and it is now housed at the Philadelphia Museum of Art. Although there have been severa... Italian Paintings, 1250–1450, in the John G. Johnson Collection and the Philadelphia Museum of Art
